Clause 5.5 On Call

OPDATE 13:05:98 on and from

- 5.5.1 Proximate Call

- 5.5.1.1 Proximate Call is time spent by Trainee Medical Officers (other than hours of duty referred to in 5.1) who are required by the employing authority to be on call and remain within the precincts of their respective hospitals when not actually on duty.
- 5.5.1.2 In deciding whether to require a Trainee Medical Officer to undertake a period of proximate call, the employing authority must have regard to the following principles:
- (i) proximate call must be limited to those circumstances where the need exists for Trainee Medical Officers to be available for call and to remain on the hospital premises to ensure a quick response.
  - (ii) proximate call must be confined to those situations where infrequent calls are encountered and which require limited hours of recall on a regular basis.
  - (iii) in determining whether proximate call is appropriate for any given situation, regard must be had to the envisaged or likely hours of work that may be required of an individual during the period of the proximate call and/or the envisaged or likely contacts and interruptions.
  - (iv) the use of proximate call is considered appropriate if the hours of work do not exceed 2.5 hours per proximate call shift on average, and/or the contacts and interruptions do not exceed 6 per proximate call shift on average.
- 5.5.1.3 In addition to having regard to the principles outlined in 5.5.1.2, health units must seek approval to utilise proximate call from the Association and the South Australian Health Commission. Such approval will be granted on the condition that:
- (i) health units provide to the satisfaction of the parties reasons why alternative rostering arrangements are inappropriate;
  - (ii) a policy must be in place to provide cover for periods of leave;
  - (iii) provide rosters clearly identifying the frequency of proximate call.
- 5.5.1.4 A Trainee Medical Officer -
- (i) before being placed on proximate call must have completed at least 12 hours and no more than 14 hours of duty immediately preceding the commencement of proximate call.
  - (ii) must be placed on proximate call only between the hours of 10 pm. and 8.30 am. on the next succeeding day for a minimum period of 8 hours. However, where a Trainee Medical Officer has only been rostered for 12 hours duty prior to being placed on proximate call, then such proximate call must not commence before twelve midnight;
  - (iii) must not be required for duty in the succeeding 24 hours if the work performed during a proximate call shift exceeds 5 hours. Where a Trainee Medical Officer has been rostered to work during that succeeding 24 hours, those hours must be treated as if they had been worked.
  - (iv) no Trainee Medical Officer is to be placed on proximate call more frequently than eight nights during any twenty-eight calendar days;
  - (v) no Trainee Medical Officer will be required to work proximate call to cover staff shortages.
- 5.5.1.5 The provisions of 5.5.1.4 (iv) and (v) may be set aside in an emergency situation or in exceptional and unforeseen circumstances but only if each of the following steps have been taken:
- (i) A list of appropriately qualified and experienced medical officers available to be called upon in an emergency is maintained;
  - (ii) Alternative measures are considered;
- * Checking the availability of Casuals, Visiting or Locum Medical Officers as per the above mentioned list

- * Reducing the level of services
  - * Transferring patients
- (iii) Records of the measures taken to address emergency situations are kept.
- (iv) The Chief Executive Officer convenes a meeting of the key medical staff to formulate an action plan. The meeting must consider:
- * The likely duration of the situation
  - * Roster requirements
  - * Timetable for future meetings
- (v) Consultation with the relevant Trainee Medical Officers and/or their representatives must be undertaken to formulate a rostering arrangement.
- (vi) The Chief Executive Officer must advise the Association and the South Australian Health Commission that the provisions of this sub-clause are being invoked and the circumstances surrounding the emergency. Both organisations must be informed of the status of the emergency and any changes in the way it is being dealt with.
- (vii) As soon as it becomes apparent that the emergency will continue beyond a week, the Chief Executive Officer must:
- * Reconvene the emergency committee
  - * Reassess steps (i) and (ii) in this process
  - * Follow the remaining processes

5.5.1.6 A Trainee Medical Officer placed on proximate call must, for the whole of the period, be paid the Hourly Rate of the defined classification for each hour on proximate call. In addition, a penalty of 50% applies where a Trainee Medical Officer is recalled whilst on proximate call, provided that where a Trainee Medical Officer is placed on proximate call on a Public Holiday, payment will be at one and three quarter times the Hourly Rate of the defined classification.

5.5.1.7 Unless the Association and the South Australian Health Commission agree otherwise, a review of the application of proximate call will be conducted by the parties every twelve months.

5.5.2 Remote Call

5.5.2.1 Remote Call is time spent by employees who are required by the employing authority to hold themselves available for duty, at home or some other mutually agreed place but without being restricted to the precincts of the hospital.

(iii) is not payable during any periods of leave.

Clause 5.6 Recall

OPDATE 13:05:98 on and from

5.6.1 When a Trainee Medical Officer, other than a Trainee Medical Officer on 'Proximate Call', an Assistant Medical Administrator (without appropriate higher qualifications), a Medical Superintendent- Country Hospital (without appropriate higher qualifications) (located at Gawler Health Service, Port Lincoln Health and Hospital Services, or Northern Yorke Peninsula Regional Health Service) or a Medical Officer, is recalled to duty on any day other than a public holiday (refer 5.4.2 or 5.4.5 as appropriate) and such recall is authorised, in addition to payment made in accordance with 5.5.2.2 and 5.5.2.3 payment will be made for time worked outside hours of rostered duty at the rate of 150 per cent of the Hourly Rate applicable to the employee except that:

5.6.1.2 where the employee is recalled to duty within 3 hours of a previous recall the employee is not entitled to any additional payment for the time worked within a period of 3 hours from the time of commencement of the previous recall or recalls.

5.6.2 Where a Consultant, Senior Consultant or an employee classified in the Medical Administration Classifications detailed in Part IV of Schedule 1. Salaries attached to this award who holds a specialist qualification, is re-called to duty and such re-call is authorised, payment is to be made for time worked on such re-call work as follows:

5.6.2.1 for work performed on Monday to Friday, Saturday and Sunday - at the rate of 150 per cent of the individual's Hourly Rate (refer 5.6.2.4) applicable to the employee;

5.6.2.3 where the period of time worked is less than 3 hours, payment is to be made for 3 hours. However, where such an employee is re-called to duty within 3 hours of a previous re-call the employee is not entitled to any additional payment for the time worked within a period of 3 hours from the time of commencement of the previous re-call or re-calls;

5.6.2.4 for the purpose of re-call payments under this subclause, the individual employee's Hourly Rate means the employee's annual salary excluding all allowances, (except the Managerial Allowance where applicable) calculated as a weekly amount divided by 37.5.

5.6.3 'Recalled to Duty' does not refer to duty undertaken immediately following rostered work or overtime or immediately prior to rostered work unless in the case of work required immediately prior to rostered work, no notification of such requirement was given to the employee prior to the completion of the employee's rostered work on the previous day. Return to work for handover purposes, at the end of a rostered on call period where no period of rostered duty immediately follows, will be deemed not to be recalled to duty for the purposes of recall payments but an additional period of rostered work if the employee knows of the requirement to return to work prior to completion of normal rostered duty on the previous day or shift.

5.6.4 When a Trainee Medical Officer or Medical Officer is recalled to duty the Trainee Medical Officer or Medical Officer will be reimbursed a travelling allowance as prescribed in the relevant South Australian Health Commission Industrial Circular from time to time. PART 6 - LEAVE

Clause 6.1 Annual Leave

OPDATE 24:03:2006 on and from

- 6.1.1 Subject to 6.1.2, 6.1.3 and 6.1.4, an employee (other than a casual employee) will, on the completion of twelve months service, be entitled to annual leave, exclusive of paid public holidays falling during the period of leave, on the following basis:
- 6.1.1.1 Thirty-five calendar days on full pay a year if regularly rostered for duty over seven days of the week or if an employee is not regularly rostered for duty over seven days of the week but is regularly required by the employing authority to be on duty or on call on seven days of the week (including Sundays and Public Holidays).
  - 6.1.1.2 Twenty-eight calendar days on full pay a year if not so rostered or required to be on duty or on call.
  - 6.1.1.3 A part-time employee is only entitled to receive payment for annual leave at the rate of payment which would have been received had the employee been on duty for the full period of the leave.
- 6.1.2 An employee, other than a Trainee Medical Officer, is not entitled to annual leave in respect of the employee's first year of service before completion of such year of service.
- 6.1.3 Annual Leave for employees other than Trainee Medical Officers is earned in service years but is taken in financial years. Annual leave will be granted by the employer and must be taken by the employee within the financial year during which it falls due, except that where the employer and employee agree, an entitlement to annual leave, in whole or in part, may be deferred to the financial year next succeeding that in which it falls due. Further, an employee may, after the 1st year of service, take annual leave before the period of leave has actually accrued.
- 6.1.4 If a period of annual leave for an employee other than a Trainee Medical Officer is deferred, then -
- 6.1.4.1 the employee may, during the first six months of the financial year to which the annual leave has been deferred, apply to take such deferred leave during that financial year. Upon receipt of such application, the employer must grant the leave sought, where possible at the time(s) requested but in any case within a six month period commencing from the date of application, and
  - 6.1.4.2 where the employee does not make an application under 6.1.4.1, the employer must grant and direct the employee to take such deferred leave during that financial year.
- 6.1.5 The entitlement of a Trainee Medical Officer to annual leave accrues on the completion of twelve months continuous service less the period of leave. However, a Trainee Medical Officer may at any time be granted annual leave in anticipation of annual leave accruing.
- 6.1.6 Annual leave for a Trainee Medical Officer will be granted by the employer and must be taken by the employee before a further entitlement to annual leave accrues. However, where the employer and the employee agree, an entitlement to annual leave, in whole or in part, may be deferred to the next following service year.
- 6.1.7 If a period of annual leave for a Trainee Medical Officer is deferred then -
- 6.1.7.1 the employee may, during the first six months of the service year to which the annual leave has been deferred, apply to take such deferred leave during that service year. Upon receipt of such application, the employer will grant the leave sought, where possible at the time(s) requested but in any case within a six month period commencing from the date of application, and
  - 6.1.7.2 where the employee does not make such application, the employer must grant and direct the employee to take such deferred leave during that service year.

- 6.1.8 Where annual leave is granted and taken in anticipation of an entitlement accruing and, before the entitlement to that leave accrues to the employee, the employee ceases for any reason to be an employee, then unless the employer otherwise determines, a sum equal to the sum paid to the employee in respect of that leave must be repaid to the employer.
- 6.1.9 Where the employing authority and the employee agree annual leave may be given or taken either in one, two or three separate periods provided that no period must be less than seven calendar days.
- 6.1.9A Notwithstanding the provisions of this clause and without the intention of disrupting continuous period(s) of annual leave, by agreement between the employing authority and employee, a full time employee may take annual leave in single day periods not exceeding 10 days;
- 6.1.9A.1 in any financial year for employees other than a Trainee Medical Officer, and
- 6.1.9A.2 in any service year for a Trainee Medical Officer, and
- for the purposes of personal leave to care for a family member as set out in 6.8.
- 6.1.10 Where the employment of an employee is terminated the employee is to be paid the appropriate pro rata entitlement for annual leave except that where the employee has taken annual leave before rendering service appropriate to the amount of leave granted, the employing authority may recover the monetary equivalent of the excess leave taken.
- 6.1.11 Subject to 6.1.12, the rate of salary a Trainee Medical Officer is entitled to receive whilst on annual leave will be that which such employee would have received if during the period of leave the employee had worked the average weekly number of hours worked by that employee during the twelve months immediately prior to the date upon which the Trainee Medical Officer proceeds on annual leave. However, where the Trainee Medical Officer has not served for twelve months from the date of appointment to the date of commencement of leave, payment will be that which would have been received if during the period of leave the Trainee Medical Officer had worked the average weekly number of hours worked by the Trainee Medical Officer during this period of service.
- 6.1.11.1 For the purposes of this subclause ‘the average weekly number of hours worked’ means all hours actually worked including overtime and time worked on recall (other than when recalled on proximate call) during the proceeding twelve months. In relation to proximate call, all time whilst on such call (including any duty performed) is to be included in the calculation.
- 6.1.11.2 The payment to be made (which is in addition to normal salary) whilst on annual leave will be calculated on the basis of time and one half of the average number of overtime and recall hours (other than recall on proximate call) worked. Payment for the average number of hours rostered on proximate call (including any duty performed) will be calculated at the rate of ordinary time.
- 6.1.12 An employee other than a Trainee Medical Officer, and, where the provisions of this subclause are more beneficial to a Trainee Medical Officer than the provisions of 6.1.11, such Trainee Medical Officer will be paid, in addition to normal salary when proceeding on annual leave, an annual leave loading of 17.5 per cent of the classification’s award salary for the period or periods of annual leave up to a maximum as provided by the Public Service (Recreation Leave Loading) Award.
- 6.1.13 The annual leave loading payable to a part-time Trainee Medical Officer shall bear the same proportion of a full-time employee’s loading entitlement as the hours of duty worked by the part-time employee bear to the hours of duty of a corresponding full-time employee;
- 6.1.14 For employees other than Trainee Medical Officers, the amount of loading payable for each calendar weeks leave is to be calculated using the following formula:
- |   |   |  |
|---|---|--|
| The weekly annual leave loading received by corresponding full time employee | X | Nominal half days a part-time employee would have normally worked in a calendar week but for the taking of annual leave |
| 10  |   | 1  |
- 6.1.15 Where a Senior Consultant is in receipt of a Managerial Allowance as provided for in 4.3.2 such allowance will continue to be paid during periods of annual leave.

6.1.16 Where a Consultant/Senior Consultant is in receipt of a Continuous Duty Allowance as provided for in 4.3.3, such allowance will continue to be paid during periods of annual leave.

Clause 6.2 Personal Leave – Injury and Sickness

OPDATE 24:03:2006 on and from

6.2.1.1 employees, other than part-time employees, will be entitled to personal leave for a maximum period of twelve working days in any financial year;

6.2.1.2 part-time employees, who are engaged on a nominal half day basis, will be entitled to annual personal leave entitlements as follows:

No. of nominal half days worked per week	Maximum no. of nominal half days entitlement in any financial year
1	2
2	5
3	7
4	10
5	12
6	14
7	17
8	19
9	22

However, such part-time employees are only entitled to receive payment for personal leave at the rate of payment which would have been received but for the absence on account of illness or injury.

6.2.1.3 A part-time Trainee Medical Officer will be credited in any financial year with a maximum personal leave entitlement which bears the same proportion of 91.2 hours as the average actual weekly hours of rostered duty of a part-time Trainee Medical Officer bears to 38 hours. Such maximum annual entitlement shall be calculated by the following formula:

$$\frac{\text{Average no. of hours of rostered duty* trainee medical officer is employed per week}}{38} \times \frac{91.2}{1} = \text{Maximum no. of hours entitlement per financial year (taken to nearest hour)}$$

* Refer 5.1.1 and 5.1.6.

6.2.2 The maximum period of personal leave which may be granted within the first twelve months of service is:

6.2.2.1 Where the employee is appointed after 30 June in any year and before 1 January in the next succeeding year the employee will be credited with:

- (i) one half of the annual entitlement on appointment,
- (ii) one half of the annual entitlement on 1 January next succeeding the employee's day of appointment and
- (iii) thereafter, the annual entitlement for each 1 July which occurs during the employee's period of service.

6.2.2.2 Where an employee is appointed after 31 December in a year and before 1 July in the next succeeding year the employee will be credited with:

- (i) one half of the annual entitlement on appointment and
- (ii) the annual entitlement for each 1 July which occurs during the employee's period of service.

However, despite the provisions in this subclause, an employee is not entitled to a grant of personal leave exceeding in the aggregate one half of the employee's annual entitlement during the first six months of service and not exceeding in the aggregate one annual entitlement during the first twelve months of service.

- 6.2.3 Personal leave accrues from year to year without limit.
- 6.2.4 Before being entitled to paid personal leave, the employee must, within twenty-four hours of the commencement of any period of absence, inform the employing authority of the inability to attend for duty and, as far as practicable state the nature of the illness, injury and the estimated duration of the absence.
- 6.2.5 Any employee absent on account of sickness for more than three days must forward a medical certificate to the employing authority.

  - 6.4.1.2 up to a further fourteen days in any financial year for additional training (not necessarily continuous) with any difference in pay made up, although a part-time employee is only entitled to receive payment for such leave at the rate of payment which would have been received had the employee been on duty for the full period of the leave.

Any employer or group of employers bound by an Award may apply to, temporarily or otherwise, reduce, postpone and/or phase-in the application of any increase in labour costs flowing from the 2019 State Wage Case and Minimum Standard for Remuneration on the grounds of serious economic adversity. The merit of such application will be determined in light of the particular circumstances of each case and the impact on employment at the enterprise level. The increase in labour costs is a significant factor to be taken into account in assessing the merit of any application. A party may make such an application under s 31A of the South Australian Employment Tribunal Act 2014 (the SAET Act) in the form approved under rule 34 of the South Australian Employment Tribunal Rules 2017. It will then be a matter for the President to decide whether it should be dealt with by a Full Bench of SAET.

Any decision to temporarily postpone or reduce an increase will be subject to a further review, the date of which will be determined by SAET at the time it decides any application under this provision.

An individual employer making an application pursuant to this provision may make a request under s 55(2) of the SAET Act that the hearing of the matter be conducted in private and/or that some or all of the evidentiary material produced in the case not be available for inspection.
